Springwood Middle and High School Math Teams place at the AISA District Competition

On Tuesday, February 9, the Springwood School Middle School and High School math teams completed in the AISA District Middle and High School Math Contests. The Springwood High School team came in 2nd place in a very close contest. The Springwood Middle School team won 1st place. Both math teams scored exceptionally well and are congratulated on their outstanding performance.

Due to her high score, Springwood senior, Lauren Terry, will compete for the High School at the state math contest as an individual. The Springwood Middle School team will represent Springwood at the state competition on February 26 at Faulkner University in Montgomery.

High School Team Members are:
(l-r) Harrison Spivey, Simon He, Lauren Terry, Steven Stuntz, and Langley Matthews
