Springwood Junior, Elizabeth McClendon, to attend Alabama Governor's School

Elizabeth McClendon, a Junior at Springwood School, has been selected to attend the 2017 Alabama Governor's School this summer from June 18 to June 30. Elizabeth was selected based on her submitted essay, leadership skills, and overall academic achievements. During her time in the program, Elizabeth will be attending hands-on seminars each day, led by leading academic, business, and community experts in their fields. These seminars will be pertaining to natural sciences, humanities, social sciences, fine and performing arts. These will give her opportunities to explore personal and academic interests. The program only takes a limited number of applicants who must be rising high school seniors and demonstrate exceptional creative and academic achievement and ability. The Alabama Governor's School is held at Samford University in Birmingham where Elizabeth will be staying in dorms during her time there. We wish Elizabeth the best of luck and hope that she has an enjoyable and educational summer!

Elizabeth is the daughter of Jason and Dr. Jenny McClendon of Lanett.
